A short effort in the sanctum of a Church of Our Lady of Comfort, 210 Bleecker Street, late last night used a fire which damaged the interior of the church. Father Anthony, pastor, was at the altar when the flames broke out. Firemen extinguished the blaze with hand extinguishers.

You May Enjoy Your Mels

You Will But Equip Your Stomach With The Right Means To Handle The Food.

If you go into a restaurant, cafe, club, where all your environmental pleasures, dining, listening, silver, cut glass, music, chatting and laughing women, are placed in your vast pocket, your stomach should not revolt when you receive a card.

Heavy steaks, soups, oysters, eggs, salads, etc., should hold no terror for a healthy stomach, and they do not.

A small box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, placed in your vest pocket, will be an efficient guard against the mad ravages of over-eating.

A tablet taken a few moments after a copious meal will remove any ill effects from your stomach and you may be as generous as those about you.

One of these little tablets will of itself settle all questions of indigestion, flatulence and will place your stomach and active organs in a better condition for rest.

Your blood will be enriched and the stunted gastric fluids will be rebuilt. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are natural, active, digestive agents who give to the stomach the elements they lack, which the stomach, remove irritation and work and stimulate the blood.

ANGLO-FRENCH WAR LOAN BONDS TAKE AMAZING SLUMP

Hit New Low Record of 94 1-8, With $180,000,000 Left on Syndicate's Hands.

The Anglo-French war loan bonds, based on the $500,000,000 credit established here with the aid of an underwriting syndicate last October, were quoted on the Stock Exchange at 94 1-8 this afternoon. This is the lowest point reached by these bonds, which have declined gradually from the original price, 98, fixed by the syndicate managers by agreement with the agents of England and France.

The syndicate, which was formed to run for sixty days, expired last night. According to the best information obtainable the public subscribed to only $20,000,000 or $30,000,000 of the bonds at 98. Underwriters, under an option to take up their full allotments at 98 1/2, under an agreement not to sell at less than 98 for sixty days, withdrew between $200,000,000 and $300,000,000 from the syndicate. It is reported that the syndicate has about $180,000,000 worth of the bonds left on its hands.

The outcome is a disappointment to the bankers' group, led by J. P. Morgan & Co., which formed the syndicate and negotiated the loan. It has been known for some time that the public, possibly influenced by German propaganda against the loan, and certainly not encouraged by a series of reverses in Gallipoli and the Balkans, would not manifest any feverish enthusiasm about investing in the bonds at the price fixed.

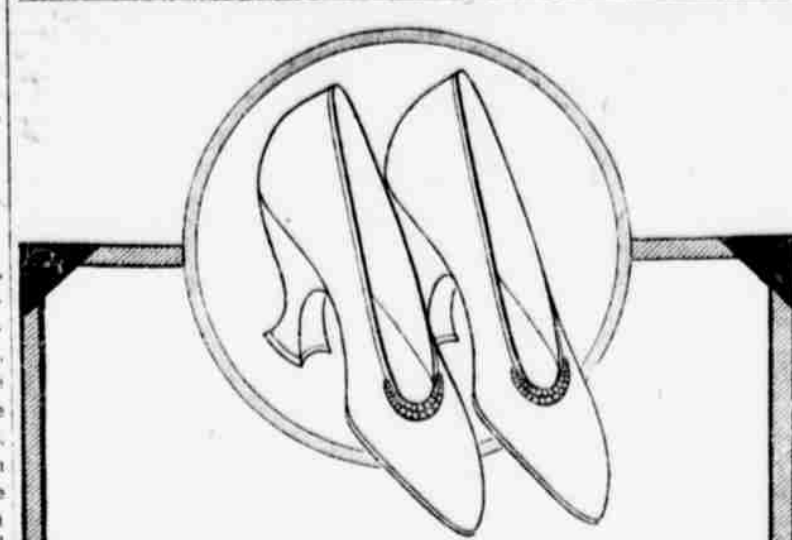

Great quantities of the bonds were dumped on the market to-day to the general discouragement of commission house business. Brokers and investors were afraid of the stock market in view of the steadily declining price of the Anglo-French bonds. Individual sales of the bonds were very large. One transaction amounted to $375,000 at 94 1-8.

Bankers interested in the bonds say the decline was expected on scattered selling, following the dissolution of the syndicate and the absorption of such large quantities of the bonds by the market at only fractional losses was an encouraging sign. It is anticipated that holders of the bonds who are not satisfied with conditions will continue to unload their holdings for several days.

The slump of 3 7-8 points from the established price of the bonds and the fact that the syndicate still holds $180,000,000 worth of them establish that there cannot be another Anglo-French loan negotiated in this country for a long time to come. Even the most optimistic members of the syndicate see no possibility of public absorption of the bonds for months to come. Even that possibility is dependent upon a pronounced improvement in the achievements of the armies of the Entente Allies.

An interesting development in this connection was another reduction, the third of recent weeks, in the selling prices of German, Austrian and Hungarian government bonds by bankers dealing in those securities. Today's downward revision results primarily from the increased weakness in exchange on the Teutonic Empire. Remittances to Germany were quoted at 76 1/2, a new low record.

How to Surprise Dad This Christmas

A New Kind of Christmas Club

Here's a scheme to make Dad the happiest man alive on Christmas morning.

Get the family all together and form a club, all agreeing to chip in for a nice arm chair like the one in the picture, or some other article of home comfort he wants.

Then, instead of paying for it all at once, get it on credit and pay a small amount each week or month—each member agreeing to pay a part of the amount due each time. This way you can get something nice that will last for years and the payments are so easy that you'll never miss the money.

The big chair illustrated above is unusually solid and well made. Comes with tapestry, velvet or real leather upholstery. Any man would be delighted with its luxurious comfort, yet the price is only $28.00, payable $2 a month. We have a large supply of these chairs—also rockers of the same design, at the same price, and many other equally attractive designs.

Come and let us show you the high quality of our goods and our low, plainly-marked prices—you'll be more than delighted.
